

ISCA Student Standards Chalk Talk Protocol

Why?

This is an engaging protocol that promotes access and equity for all voices to be heard on important topics that a group is exploring.

What?

Give each participant time to skim/scan the ISCA Student Standards. Then, instead of having a spoken dialogue, engage in a silent one!

How?

Set a prompt in the center of a large poster paper. Your “chalk” (or pen/marker) will do the talking as you express your thoughts, questions, and ideas with words and/or symbols. Build off the ideas of others by connecting to what they are writing.

It takes as long as it needs to take and when it is over, engage in a reflective dialogue.

What are we noticing or wondering?

What are the take-aways?

What might be some next steps?
